About the Conference

Development at any phase is always linked with technology and technology happens when there is advancement in science. Hence science, technology and development are all proportional to each other. Development is required in every individual to every nation in all aspects and for development to happen, science and technology go hand in hand.. For any successful economy, particularly in today's quest for knowledge based economies, science, technology and engineering are the basic requisites. If nations do not implement science and technology, then the chances of getting themselves developed becomes minimal and thus could be even rated as an undeveloped nation. Science and Technology is associated in all means with modernity and it is an essential tool for rapid development.

In this backdrop, a two Days National Inter-disciplinary Science Conference on the theme “Science in Development” is being organised on 1st-2nd November, 2018 at Sri Pratap College, Srinagar, J&K. The conference will bring together scholarship and practice, global and local perspectives, and disciplines across all sciences and thus serve the need for advancing both knowledge and action by creating a dynamic bridge between the two. Scientists, academicians, research scholars and students from all realms of science shall find it as an innovative platform to discuss and learn about the crucial role that science plays in development.
